AMERICAN "400'S" POWERFUL WEAPONS

Capable of Hurling Missile Weighing Almost a Ton

Heavy Gunners of the U. S. Forces Surprised to Find that With the Big Land Guns Used in France Speed is not an Important Factor.

American Training camp in France Wednesday, Oct. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Not far behind the American field artillery, which has been in training in a rugged section of France for the past two months, have come the men of the "heavies." They are veteran gunners and many are familiar with the big guns at home.

Some of the guns with which the American artillerymen are training are wonderful and ponderous weapons. They range from the modest but marvellously effective "155" up to the staggering "400" that hurls a high explosive missile weighing just short of a ton. The 400's are more potent than the Big Berthas ever were in their days of great destructiveness.

The Americans are delighted with their French weapons and are busy studying every detail and adapting themselves to the use of French material. The heavy gunners have been a little surprised to find that with the big land guns used here speed is not a great factor. These heavy weapons are used for destructive purposes and there is no special need for haste when dealing with concrete dugouts and other enemy defense that cannot run away. Accuracy is the great goal of all heavy gunners.

Asked if his men would not find it difficult to shoot without direct observation, the general commanding the heavy artillery contingent replied:

"We will have direct observation here. The only differences will be that the observer, instead of standing beside the gun will be sitting aloft in an airplane. You can depend upon it that each shot we fire at the enemy will be watched and recorded."

The wireless branch of the heavy artillery service is one of great importance. At schools already established radio pupils are being specially trained in communication with airplanes and observation balloons.

Scores of reserve officers from Plattsburg and other training camps are completing their technical education in the artillery schools here. These officers, individually selected for the artillery service because of the education in higher mathematics and engineering are proving a great joy to their commanders and instructors.

The real pets with the American gunners are those aristocrats among the heavies which command special railroad cars. Some of these cannons are so important and so valuable that an entire artillery train is devoted to them. These trains are strange looking affairs in their fantastic war paint resembling at a distance a mammoth rattlesnake. Even the engines are included in the camouflage and may resemble anything from a brick house to a giant hedge hog.

The French sense of humor cannot be suppressed by three years and more of war. French officers have named one of the largest guns turned over to the Americans, "Moustique" which means mosquito.

"It is a compliment to any of your artillerymen who may have come from New Jersey," said the French commandant who said he was familiar with the Jersey coast.

The French guns altho large and apparently unwieldy, are balanced easily, one man being able to elevate and deflect a weapon weighing fifty tons or more.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY ADMITS SHORTAGE

Want of Sufficient Coal Attributed to Great Demand.

Washington, Oct. 11.—A general coal shortage was admitted tonight by the geological survey, which attributes the situation to the unprecedented demand.

"The tremendous increase in manufacturing and transportation activity this year," said a statement issued, "has created a demand for soft coal in excess of any in the past, an increase in demand that is difficult to measure in terms of tons, but that is certainly more than the ten per cent by which production has increased. To meet this demand the operators have been mining coal at a rate never before equalled."

Wake county Sept. 1 was a month ahead of last year in output and is expected to finish the year with an increase of ten per cent over 1916 the banner year and 25 per cent over 1915.

In the second week of July, 1917 the average daily production was more than 1,900,000 tons, the highest point yet attained; in the middle of August the lowest rate for the summer was 1,538,000 tons, was recorded and in the last of September the daily rate was 1,823,000 tons.

FOUND GUILTY OF DAUGHTER'S DEATH

Joseph Wakelin Convicted of Manslaughter—Wife is Acquitted.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 11.—Joseph Wakelin of Melrose, was tonight found guilty of manslaughter on account of the death of his daughter Loretta, seven years of age. His wife Sarah, who had been on trial with him on the same charge was acquitted.

The maximum penalty for manslaughter in this state is twenty years imprisonment.

Wakelin and his wife were originally indicted for murder, but when they were placed on trial District Attorney Tufts had the charge changed to manslaughter. The state contended that when Loretta, or "Tootsie" as she was called, was sent home from school on the morning of June 1, 1916, for a book she had forgotten, she objected to returning to school and that in a fit of anger Wakelin seized her more forcibly than he intended and choked her to death. Then, in order to divert suspicion, according to the state's allegation he mutilated the child's body and concealed it in the woods near his home in Melrose so as to make it appear that his daughter had been waylaid and attacked.

"The enemy troops were harassed by machine gun fire at every opportunity. Bombs were dropped on Staden during the day. At night two tons were dropped on the Roulers, Courtrai, Menin and Ledeghem stations. A direct hit was obtained on a hostile train, causing a number of explosions."

Marshfield, Mo., Oct. 11.—What may prove deciding factors in the trial of Claude J. Piersol, charged with kidnapping Baby Lloyd Keet, was indicated today when handwriting experts testified that the letters written by Piersol to Taylor Adams, jointly indicted with him and to J. Holland Keet, father of the baby, demanding a ransom from the latter for the return of the baby, were written by the same person.

The prosecution rested late today and the defense is expected to finish its case tomorrow and begin arguments in the evening in the event Judge C. H. Skinner decides to hold night sessions.

GREAT DEAL MORE HARD FIGHTING AHEAD

Major General Maurice Emphasizes Importance to Allies of Getting American Troops to Front as Soon as Possible.

London, Oct. 11.—Major General Frederick B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, in his weekly talk today with the Associated Press after an optimistic review of the last week's work on the British front in Flanders said:

"We have every right to be confident when we see what our men have done. But the fighting is hard and we do not think that the present series of battles in Flanders is going to end the war. There is a great deal more hard fighting before us. I would say that the importance of getting the American troops there as quickly as possible and in the greatest possible numbers has not been diminished. The word 'steam roller' which was so often used in the early days of the war in connection with the Russian army is exactly the British advance in Flanders. It is an advance, not rapid but insistent, irresistible and it goes uphill very slowly but now it is going down hill and battles are following each other more and more rapidly."

"I don't wish to minimize the U-boat threat, but I can truthfully say that nothing the U-boats have done has delayed for a single hour our work in France; it has not delayed a single round of ammunition or a ration for the soldiers. The British army was never better fed or supplied than today."

Commenting on the German report that the British had lost a half million men in the present series of battle, General Maurice said:

"The figures are grotesque. We have not had that many men engaged. As I have already told you our casualties have been very light and the German casualties are known to have been 75 per cent greater than ours."

MILITARY SCHOOL COURSES PLANNED

Every Man Will be Given Enough Rifle Work to Qualify Him as a Marksman.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Courses for the great military schools at divisional training camps have been carefully mapped out. The whole scheme of the sixteen week course, to its minutest detail, is based on what General Pershing and his officers already have learned on the other side. It will be varied as new lessons are learned at the fighting front.

The plan is calculated to produce infantry divisions uniformly organized, equipped and trained.

It will cut down materially the training time abroad. The first division to graduate from the home training school and reach France will need but a few weeks additional instruction to fit it for duty at the front.

For the first five weeks the men will learn all about the mechanism of the rifle, how to keep it clean, how to load, sight and fire; the theories of windage, elevation and the like. With the sixth week they will begin spending 16 hours a week battering away at targets of all sorts. While one platoon or company is firing the others will be at work estimating distances to train their eyes, studying the use of fire control instruments, range finders and observers glasses.

Divisions having passed thru the schooling will be remarkably effective as every man retained will have had rifle work enough to make him a qualified marksman.

McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, sounded a new note in his campaign for the liberty loan here tonight when he warned the nation that should the present or any subsequent issue of bonds fail during the war with Germany, the credit of this government would be impaired with disastrous results to the country.

"If the credit of the nation is undermined," the secretary declared, "what is property worth to the rich man, what is life to the freeman."

Insisting that government bonds were the safest investment in the world for the citizens of the United States, he said that their investment promoted national safety and made property secure. He told the crowd that if the present liberty bond issue was not greatly over-subscribed the fact would be spread broadcast thru Germany, where it would be accepted as a plain indication that the American people were not back of their government in waging war on autocracy.

SHELL HOLES PROVE TRAP FOR GERMANS

New System of German Front Line Defense Taken Advantage of by French.

With the British and French in Flanders, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The new system of front line defense, inaugurated by the Germans, who instead of utilizing the line trenches, organized nests of shell holes, proved a regular trap in the battle just ended. The German troops who occupied the craters without other shelter, when they found during the fighting that their officers were not with them, and not having immediate oversight, departed as soon as the French approached. The German officers meanwhile were sheltered in concrete pill boxes further to the rear.

The correspondent spoke today with several prisoners, officers and men, all of whom seemed to be in a terrible condition of fatigue. The officers declared that their companies were reduced to a strength of only forty men, some of whom were mere boys of eighteen. The men said they were well provided with food while on the front lines, but that in the interior of the country the privations were great.

The French troops today, despite the condition of the ground, made a further advance, straightening out their line toward the borders of Houtholst forest and taking additional batches of prisoners.

LITTLE FIGHTING REPORTED THURSDAY

Both British and French Troops Keep to Their Trenches

Big Guns on Both Sides Continue Heavy Shelling—Good Prospects of Return of Heavy Fighting in Roumania, with Russians As Aggressors.

Comparatively little fighting activity is in progress on any of the battle fronts except in the nature of reciprocal bombardments. In Flanders Thursday both the British and French troops kept to their trenches, neither essaying attacks nor being forced to sustain counter offensives against the new positions they hold as a result of the drive of Tuesday.

The big guns on both sides, however, were shelling opposing positions vigorously—those of the allies in work of destruction and those of the Germans in the nature of disturbances of the peace of the allies in their new trenches.

Additional rain has accentuated the swampy condition of the ground and it probably will be several days before the British and French again jointly unleash their men for another raid against the Teutons. Wednesday night the French repulsed a heavy counter-attack east of Draebank. The Germans during this time let the British alone with their infantry, but hurled masses of shells into their line west of Passchendaele.

Along the southern front in France the Germans again have met with defeat in attempts to capture French positions on the east bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector. The attacks, however, were not made in strong force, being more in the nature of trench raiding operations.

The prospects of a return to heavy fighting in Roumania with the Russians the aggressors, seem good. On the Roumania plain and near Braila, the Russians have heavily bombarded the Germans in reprisal shelled the important allied position, Galatz, their shells causing several fires.

On the northern sector of the eastern front near Riga, the Germans after a heavy bombardment pushed back the Russians in the vicinity of the Pskoff high road. Daily the artillery duels in Macedonia with the entente forces exerting the greater power are increasing, especially in the direction of Doiran and north of Monastir and it is probable that at no long date the predicted allied offensive in this region will begin.

There have been no new developments concerning the attempted mutiny on board German warships at Wilhelmshaven. Emperor William during the political turmoil that had been created by the revelations of disaffection in the navy, is visiting King Ferdinand of Bulgaria in Sofia.

THEY DO IT IN MASSACHUSETTS

(East St. Louis Tribune.)

Around Lexington, Mass., nature
has been overgenerous.

Beneath the apple trees in dozens of orchards there is now a carpet of wind-blown fruit. These apples are ripe for packing but in prime condition for immediate consumption.

The other day somebody suggested that the boy scouts of Lexington be sent, with the consent of the farmers, to gather up the fallen apples
and send them to the poor of Boston. The fruit growers quickly gave consent and many hundreds of bushels of fruit which otherwise would go to waste are now to be devoted to some useful purpose.

If this can be done in Massachusetts why not in other parts of the country—in Southern Illinois, for instance?

KEEPING UP ENGLAND'S CREDIT

That England will maintain her credit at all cost and will keep in position to pay its obligations to the U. S. is indicated by the announcement that British capital is to be consolidated. This fact is no doubt made known at this time because of the announcement that the U. S.
has just made another loan to Great Britain. It is said by statisticians that even if the war were now at an end that it would be necessary for England to have an annual revenue
of $2,500,000,000 in order to meet present expenses to take care of pensions and the interest on indebtedness. With the generous pension provisions that have been made
it is easy to figure that the European pension obligation is already running to a vast sum each year and the longer the war continues the greater must be this sum. Thus far the English government has been able to secure the funds needed by taxes on incomes
and by heavy excess profit taxes and other measures considered usual in war times, and the announcement
that there is now to be a conscription of wealth indicates the pressing need of the government and the determination to keep its credit
good.

"CAMOUFLAGE" SHOWS CHANGE IN MILITARY METHODS.

If Webster were compiling his dictionary today he would find it necessary to give definitions for many new words which the war has brought into common usage. One of the terms most frequently seen in print these days is "camouflage."
The word used to define the system
of concealment adopted by the war-

HOW THE BIRDS HELP.

When counting in and raking out
the last traces of that war patch garden, please note that what success
you had last summer was very largely due to the birds. They did for the insects that failed to bother you.
As "Punch" put it recently: "Protect the birds and the insects will be in their crops. Destroy the birds and your crops will be in the insects." That's just as true today
as it was when we first heard it down the valley at Butteville, Ore.
In the year that Corbett licked Sullivan and it's even more important.
What are you doing to bring the birds back your way next spring?

There are several things you can do. First of all get the migratory ones off to a good start south un-
molested by idlers and pot hunters.
Every garden or orchard chapter
that is knocked down in your neighborhood this month means ten thousand or more additional insects for you to battle with next spring. So see to it as far as you can that the laws protecting birds are known and obeyed. Some birds stay north thru the winter and children can have a lot of fun sheltering, feeding and getting acquainted with these feathered friends at large. Just a little care and the birds will be on the job again next spring to help us
beat the submarines.—(Colliers.)

SERVING.

No matter what you're doing if only it is right.

If helping you're pursuing you're defeating win the fight.

Altho your task be lowly, like
scrubbing down a stair.

Remember good work's holy, so
put your heart right there.

Use every nerve and muscle, tho
scrubbing peoples' floors.

As with the dirt you tussle while
scrubbing peoples' floors.

No task will prove unnerving if
heart is filled with cheer.

And country you're serving and a slacker hunt.

Flag that is so dear.

Altho not in the battle, in trench,
or at the front.

But making dishes rattle, or on
No words of treason utter; inside
or out your door.

Nor stand aside and mutter while
lads are sailing o'er.

To help the men and women who fight in other lands.

But act you like a human with busy mind and hands.

And never like a miser, but treating homeland square.

Then you're helping catch the Kaiser without going over there.

ring forces. This term now appears regularly in the daily papers and no doubt a few weeks hence some other unusual word will be worked overtime to just as great an extent.

But there is, after all, something very significant about "camouflage"
because it emphasizes the great change which has taken place in the methods of warfare as years have gone. The time was when pageantry and pomp had a great deal to do with armies and battles. The uniforms of soldiers were in blazing—
or at least prominent—colors and altogether there was a good deal of display in the maneuvers of armies and navies. But now all that is gone. The uniforms of the soldiers are designed to "tone in" as far as possible with the color of their surroundings. Ships instead of being painted a conspicuous color are done
in drab. The same principle is applied to other equipment of warfare.

Some time ago a plan was devised
for surrounding vessels with a dense smoke which would prevent them
from being seen and thus enable them to escape from enemies. It is very much of this same principle
that is embodied in camouflage, but instead of creating a smoke or gas which will envelop the ship or the troop, seeking to escape attack, the plan is to so color uniforms and equipment that there will be no contrast, and in the very lack of color
the troops, ships or equipment can escape detection. No doubt camouflage is one of the war words which will remain.

JIM DALE

By Ellis Parker Butler.

Young Jimmy Dale, across our street,

Is just so gawky lad.

He grew so fast, the doctors said,
His heart was mighty bad;

They wouldn't let him do much work

Or any hearty play
But, just the same, they drafted Jim
And Jim has gone away.

Jim was a sort of great, big kid
And fooling all the while

So, when they ordered him to camp.

He went there with a smile.

Jim Dale is in the army now,
Lank legs, bum heart and all.

To fight like other drafted men
That got the country's call.

God, yes! Jim's heart may drop him dead

Or he may live to be Shot all to pieces over there—

What odds to you or me?

By thunder! its these odds to you!

It kids like Jim can go.

With smiles, to fight our wars for us

We can put up the dough.

And don't while Jim, poor cuss,
Goes smiling off to death or wounds—

Then hell's too good for us!

DO NOT PROTEST
UNTIL YOU KNOW.

Numerous appeals have reached parties in this city, asking that they protest against certain orders
regarding organization of the army which they claim discriminate. It is rumored that three regiments will be reduced from twelve companies to eight, and when this is done, the matter of making two regiments out of three will be taken up.

It is understood that the work of consolidating the three regiments will soon be completed. Senators and representatives at Washington
and others prominent in the political world have made efforts to have the
plans of re-organization changed,
but according to reports, their efforts have been futile and they should be. It is about time that our people realize that we are in a
"state of war" and that our military authorities should not be hap-
pered or interfered with by civilians
no matter what their prominence,
much less by professional politicians.
Trust the men experienced in organization and in military affairs.
Be slow in signing "protests" where
you do not thoroughly understand
the plans of the military authorities.
Some one may have an axe to grind.

The following little story, in its way, illustrates the necessity of drill
and obedience, and the soldiers way
of doing his duty without undue grumbling.

I dunno wot's the matter wid
you chaps today, but as I 'av' remarked more'n once before, thank Gawd we got a navy.

The old sergeant, whose arm had been torn off by "a bit of shrapnel",
was drilling a squad of raw recruits. "Ow th' 'ell you chaps
think ye're goin' to whack th' 'uns
when ye don't know 'ow to at-th'- fift-on-th'-right-form-platoon?" "Ang
it all ye chaps ought to know by this time. Now try it ag'in."

"Of course I know 'ow you feel about it. You're fed up, ain't ye?
Ye're sick 'o' formin' fours an' presentin' ar-rum-sun' all that, ain't ye? An' ye think this drill is all
'umbug an' eyewash."

"Ye can take my word for it,
drill's the thing wot's goin' to win
this war. Anybody can be a blinkin'
'ero an' do th' death-an'-glory stunt,
but it takes a man to do 'is drill in the field as steady as 'e'd do it 'ere on this parade ground."

GOING OUT.

In this fair world in which we
dwell no man's so greatly needed
that when they tell his passing bell
his going is much heeded. Today
we see a shining guy of whom the world is talking, and we remark,
"If he should die 't would set the planet rocking. Oh, it would jolt

WOMEN'S WAR WORK.

Miss Elson Barnes, chairman of the registration of Morgan county
unit, National Council of Defense, spoke Wednesday in Waverly in the interest of the registration of women. A school of instruction was held in the morning and a general meeting in the afternoon. Miss Barnes was much pleased with the fine organization and patriotic spirit
displayed by the women of Waverly
and predicts an unusual record for patriotic services during the week beginning Nov. 5. Miss Emma Burnett, vice president of the Morgan county federation of clubs, has been most active in interesting the women of Waverly in the plan of the woman's committee of the council of national defense.

Murrayville and Woodson women
gathered to hear Miss Barnes Thursday evening and the interest displayed augurs well for registration
in the southern part of the county.

It is the hope of the chairman of the Morgan county unit of the council of national defense that women throughout the county hear the lecture of Dr. Charles T. Baylis at Central Christian church Wednesday
Oct. 17. Dr. Baylis is making a tour
under the direction of the Council of National Defense. There have been few opportunities for hearing
accounts of life at the front given
by one who has actually been there.
The more we realize the true conditions which our men must encounter, the more generous will be our war service at home.

MUST DRAG ROADS
OR LOSE ROUTES.

The post office department will take some radical steps about changing rural route in Adams
county, according to the Quincy Journal unless a speedy effort is made to better road conditions. The paper says:

"Work is absolutely necessary on nearly every road in Adams county or the R. F. D. mail routes will be changed before spring, according to Highway Superintendent L. L. Boyer, who said today that unless the
roads are kept in good condition,
the government will change mail
routes and abandon the bad roads.
Therefore it is up to the patrons to see that the road in front of their farms is good. The drag is recommended."

BAPTIST MISSIONARY
SOCIETY MET.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church met on Thursday afternoon with Miss Stevenson at her home on West North street. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. O. N. Barr. The general theme of the afternoon was
"Sons of Italy," and the introductory paper was by Mrs. J. P. Brown, whose theme was "Agencies of As-silation." Then Mrs. L. B. Turner presented "Other Agencies," and Mrs. A. B. Williamson followed with "Organized Movements." Mrs. E. O.
Mayer's theme was "Legitimacy of Protestant Work," and Miss Nettie Hayden discussed "The Challenge to the Church." The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

POSTMASTER IS NOW
RECRUITING OFFICER

Postmaster R. I. Dunlap will have charge of the local recruiting station
for the next ten days during the absence of Sergeant Stirling. The latter left the city yesterday for a trip to various smaller towns in the vicinity for the purpose of making a census and finding recruits for the army service. Sergeant Stirling believes that in this way he will succeed in enlisting a number of young men in the service of their country.
He will resume his duties here on
Oct. 22.

NO SHORT COURSE IN BUSINESS THIS YEAR.

The University of Illinois has decided not to repeat the Short Course
in Business which has been given several years for the reason that the demands on both faculty and students for war service of one sort and another have become so insistent that it is felt that such energies as
are available should be devoted to the promotion of this service. Members of the faculty who have been depended upon to conduct the Short Course have also been called into government work.

BUSINESS MEN WILL MEET DR. HANLEY

Banquet Planned for Next Thursday Evening When Evangelist
Will Speak.

At the close of the service at Grace church last night the pastors of the co-operating churches with representatives selected by each,
met in the Sunday school room and
planned for a business men's banquet to be given next Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Rev. E. L.
Pietila, who is chosen temporary chairman and made a statement as to the importance of holding such a meeting, giving something from his experience at Gibson City under similar circumstances. It was unanimously voted to invite Dr.
Hanley to appear before a gathering of the business men of the city
and speak to them on this occasion.
Dr. Rammelkamp of Illinois college was chosen as permanent chairman
and J. S. Finley secretary. An executive committee was selected by the representatives of each church,
which was composed of the following persons:

Grace church, W. B. Rogers, Westminster, Henry Kamm; Northminst-
er, Joshua Vasconcellos; Brooklyn, T. B. Reeve; Centenary, J. W. Taylor; State Street, Dr. A. L. Adams;
West Jacksonville, Gus Waltman;
Jacksonville circuit, Charles Cul-ly.

A motion was made and carried that the matter of place should be left to this committee. At the meeting Dr. Hanley will deliver an address which has been heard with great favor in the leading cities of the country on "The Soul of Business." This gathering will have nothing to do with the revival series but is the opportunity for business men to hear Dr. Hanley. Dr.
Hanley has appeared on the chautauqua platform and has been booked to appear for the coming year in 64 out of 68 cities which he visited the past season.

FEEDERS AND STOCKERS
SELL LOWER.

The livestock market—that is for
stockers and feeders—has shown
something of a slump in recent days.
This is partially due to the high price for feed and partially because of the uncertainty of the prices
which may result from the activities
of Herbert Hoover, food administrator. It is generally believed now that it is the intention of the food
administrator to keep the corn price
at about $1 per bushel and the price
for cattle and hogs in proportion.
This condition may account for the following telegram which was received last night by the Journal from Kansas City, showing the big receipts of certain classes of cattle in the stock yards there:

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 11.
Jacksonville Journal:

The following information will doubtless be of interest to your readers. The Kansas City market received nearly 100,000 cattle (exclusive of 9,000 calves) in four days this week. These cattle were principally stockers and feeders.

There is a big accumulation of cattle
in the stock yards and prices on country kinds are much lower. This is a good week for farmers who want to buy stockers or feeders.

AN UNFORTUNATE FAMILY

A few weeks since Mrs. Weaver
Smith of Dillon, Montana, went with her two children to visit friends and relatives in Pearl and while there
the children were taken sick presumably from change of climate and diet and Mr. Smith was sent for and brought them to Passavant hospital where they are now. They are quite ill but it is thought that recovery
will come in due season.

HAXTON CASE REVERSED
BY APPELLATE COURT

The appellate court has reversed
the judgment of the Morgan county
court in the case of the People vs.
Walter Haxton and the case has been remanded with directions. Haxton was convicted at the 1916 September term of the county court and was given a fine of $200 and a sentence of 30 days in jail. His attorneys were Paul Samuel and John M.
Butler and they secured a writ of superseas for their client which kept him out of jail, and an appeal
was taken to the appellate court.

The principal point on which Hax-
ton's attorneys based their appeal
was that no names were endorsed upon the information filed against him; secondly, they maintained that improper evidence was admitted by the court and furthermore charged that defamatory statements were made by the state's attorney. The case was tried in the county court here by W. N. Hairgrove, who was the state's attorney, and the answer
on behalf of the people in the appellate court was filed by State's Attorney Robinson. The order of the court indicates that the case has been remanded with directions and all the details relating to the case
will not be known until the full text
of the order has been received.

The appellate court has also entered an order in the case of the Ayers National bank et al vs Barber. The decree entered here was reversed.

Stoves, stove pipe, elbows,
coal hods.

SERGEANT MALONE IN LINE FOR PROMOTION.

It will be good news to the many friends of Sergeant Lloyd Malone of this city, who is now with the aviation corps located at Rantoul, that he is in line for promotion to a first lieutenancy of the Aviation Section of the Signal Corps.

Sergeant Malone was placed in charge of the squadron when he was first sent to Kelly field, just out of San Antonio, Texas. Later the squadron was transferred to Chanute field at Rantoul. It has been Sergeant Malone's duty to get the squadron in such condition that it would be noticeable.

That he succeeded is proven by the fact that at the last government inspection it was the only one of the four squadrons located at Rantoul that received honorable mention. The 39th Aero Squadron which is in charge of Sergeant Malone is noted for its discipline, cleanliness of quarters and person and in fact everything that goes to make up a first class unit.

At some of the cantonments several of the orders have cooperated and erected a building for the use of the members. Supreme Chancellor Brown will accompany Grand Chancellor Reeve to Mattoon today to attend a special meeting of the order in that city.

CHARACTER FIRMNESS

Dr. Hanley Talked Last Night on Spiritual Backbone—Plans for Special Services.

The service at the Hanley-Fisher revival held at Gracch church Thursday night was of unusual interest. Because of threatening weather the audience was not so large as it has been heretofore. The meeting opened with the usual song service, the choir rendering with fine effect, "My Saviour," "I Love Him" and "God Will Take Care of You," after which Mr. Fisher asked that those present who wished to ask for prayers for friends or members of their families raise hands. A large number responded and Rev. W. R. Leslie led in the opening prayer. The congregation was asked to give passages of scripture using the word "love" and in this service many took part.

Mr. Fisher before the sermon sang with fine effect "When They Ring the Golden Bells for You and Me." Dr. Hanley commended the choir very strongly, saying it was one of the best they had ever had.

The sermon by Dr. Hanley was as the others have been one of unusual strength and power. The subject for the evening was "Spiritual Backbone" and the text was Dan. 6:10: "And when Daniel knew that he was writing he signed he went into his house and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day and prayed and gave thanks before his God, as he did afore time."

By way of introduction Dr. Hanley made a most interesting graphic description of the young man Daniel who had been carried as a captive from his native land to live among a people who were idolaters as well as holding a bitter racial hatred for the Jews. Daniel and his friends were the victims of the hatred of those high in authority and these imposed the most trying ordeals on their captives.

All of these were met by Daniel and his friends with the greatest fidelity to the one true God whom they worshipped and served. Never in a single recorded instance did Daniel swerve from his purpose of right living even though he knew that the laws of the Medes and Persians could not be changed in a single instance.

Why Does a Range Rust Out
From the Inside?

Because the Inside of the Range Body
Lies Flat Against the Sweaty Asbestos

Moisture Rusts Iron

Any kind of iron and every kind of steel rusts unless protected from moisture.

With one exception—all malleable ranges are of three-ply construction. The outer casing or main range body, then a layer of asbestos—then an inner lining of iron. The outer casing and inner lining are flat against the asbestos. Asbestos is a substance that absorbs moisture from the air. No matter how hot it becomes it will be full of moisture within thirty minutes after being removed from the heat.

When you build a fire the heat drives the moisture to the other side of the asbestos onto the cold range body. There it condenses or sweats on the cold iron until the heat dries it up. Rust begins with the first fire and is fed by this sweating condition every time the range is fired up. The rust is on the inside. You don't know—you never suspect it until it rusts through. Then it is too late.

In the Copper-Clad Range the asbestos is clad with a sheet of copper which never rusts. The sweat never gets to the iron body. It can't rust out.

Come and let us show you.
See the asbestos sweat. Know
for yourself.

FARM LAND
There was never before such demand for farm land, both buyers and renters. We are trying our best to supply our patrons. Fortunate indeed is the man who can buy a farm home at the present prices. Our best land will sell from $300 per acre and upward long before many are now expecting it. To our many friends we offer the following:

- (A) 100 acres six miles southwest of the city, timber soil. Well improved and mostly in grass, fenced in twenty acre fields. Price $125 per acre.
- (B) 100 acres southwest of the city, timber soil growing extra heavy crops; 15 acres of fine bottom land sown to wheat. Fine clover field and a few acres of timber. Good 5 room house with basement, cistern piped into the house with pump and sink. Nearly new horse barn, implement shed, new garage and machine shed now building. Big chicken house with three compartments and can be had for $100 per acre.

RED CROSS ESTABLISHES WAREHOUSE IN FRANCE

New Distribution System to Serve American Troops and War Hospitals Behind Firing Line—Stocks of Goods Carried Show Great Variety.

Washington, Oct. 11.—To serve the American troops and the hundreds of war hospitals behind the French firing line, and to reach the thousands of French refugees, the Red Cross Commission in France has established a system of thirteen large warehouses throughout France. Cables describing the operation of this new war relief distribution system, organized since the arrival of the Red Cross Commission in Paris in June, have just been received by the Red Cross War Council.

Six of the new Red Cross warehouses have been located in Paris, which serves as the center of the distribution system. Ten other warehouses are located in departments outside the capital and from these supplies are distributed by motor trucks, wagons and every available means of transportation to hospitals and other institutions.

Supplies Direct from U. S.
Approximately fifteen thousand tons of materials are now being distributed monthly from these warehouses by the Red Cross Commission. A large proportion of these supplies is received directly from the United States and is forwarded by the Red Cross Supply Service from work-rooms and from relief societies affiliated with the Red Cross. Owing to the great shortage of ocean tonnage, large quantities of supplies have been purchased by the Red Cross Commission in France.

Plans are now under way to increase the warehouse facilities of the Commission at French seaports. At present these are very limited, but as soon as additional storage space can be provided greater quantities of supplies from the United States can be handled.

The stocks of goods carried by the warehouses are as varied as the great wholesale houses or department stores. Every kind of medical supplies, drugs, and surgical instruments is carried in stock for the use of hospital staffs. Foodstuffs, clothing, building materials, plowing implements and tools are also being imported in large quantities for the assistance of French refugees.

Handled in American Fashion
Red Cross Warehouses in Paris alone have a capacity of three and a half million cubic feet and can take care of sixty thousand tons of supplies at a time. Here supplies are handled in true American fashion, and at one of the warehouses railway freight cars are run directly into the building itself for unloading.

American college men, many of whom formerly served as drivers in the American ambulance, are directing the work, while the force of workmen is recruited from veteran French soldiers and Belgian men no longer fit for military duty. The French government and the municipal authorities of Paris are co-operating with the Commission in the securing of labor and in maintaining the transportation service.

WORTH $5000 A YEAR TO HIM

Taste for Drink Removed

$5000 a year is a tidy sum. In a large town near Chicago there is a business man who tells his friends that The Keeley Treatment has meant that much, and more, to him. A few years ago this man was addicted to the use of liquor. Every day he had to drink a certain quantity or suffer the agonies of deprivation. His appetite was poor, he didn't sleep well, and his business was showing the effects of impaired will and efficiency.

When he heard of the Keeley Treatment he determined to rid himself of the weight that was dragging him down. He went to the Keeley Institute, took the treatment and today he is a thoroughly well man, with the craving for liquor entirely removed. He has been able to concentrate his efforts on making good. The Keeley Treatment has given him a new life, and higher ideals—no wonder he values it so highly. This is but one of thousands of similar cases, varying only in details, which could be mentioned. Every one of them are strong advocates of the Keeley Treatment and value it just as highly as the man whose case was here cited. But, really, the value of the Keeley Treatment cannot be estimated in dollars. The fresh vigor, the newfound respect of friends, family and neighbors, the regained ambition and self-control that come with the throwing off of habit are things that mean more than money.

Men and women who use liquor or drugs need the scientific Keeley Treatment. Tell them about it. Safe, effective—no harmful drugs, no nausea, no ill effects, no confinement; administered by skillful physicians. Write for information in plain, sealed envelope, The Keeley Institute, Dwight, Ill. Nearly 20 years of successful service.

Some Reasons for a Farm Advisor or Agent

A prominent and successful farmer was asked a few days ago "How do you feel about securing a county advisor for this county?" He replied, "I don't want any man to come onto my farm and tell me how to farm. I have been at it a long time and know the game."

His reply was made offhand and without thought and was entirely erroneous because, first, no county advisor would presume to go onto his farm and tell him how to farm. No advisor would even make a suggestion to him unless he went to him for advice.

Secondly, the farmer who made the reply has been in the game a long time, and has made good, and has made good because he has always been on the lookout for better ways to do things and has not hesitated to consult other farmers who might be able to tell him something to his benefit, and only recently remarked that he had for years pursued a certain line of operating his farm and was now in doubt as to whether or not he was on the right track and while he thought he had made money he was not sure but that he would have made greater profits by other methods. After making this remark he invited some farmer friends to visit him and give him their opinion as to his operation. And one of these friends did visit him and spent a whole afternoon with him discussing their farm problems.

So this farmer's reply was thoughtless for in fact no advisor will try to tell him how to farm and in fact this farmer has always made it a practice to seek advice from whom he thought were qualified to help him. This farmer handled livestock and used a veterinary surgeon to advise and help him with the ills and diseases of his animals and while he employed the veterinary he employed the doctor, the veterinary and lawyer. A county advisor will stand in the same relation to most of his farm problems as does the doctor to his family ailments, the veterinary to the diseases of his animals and the lawyer to his business problems. A county advisor who might more properly be called a county agent is really a doctor for diseased farm lands and ill-managed farm business, a man who can advise in the matter of controlling and eliminating diseases of farm products and contagious animal diseases and insect depredations and who can bring about a co-operation among the farmers of the county that would profit them greatly in producing and marketing crops and would build up and better financial and social conditions in the country side. Of course, no advisor can know everything and none will pretend to but a good advisor knows where to get reliable information quickly and after he has been on the job awhile will be able to tell you how others have successfully solved your problems.

This farmer and his neighbors must not think that a county advisor or ill annoy or pest him in any way for he will not, but if the county secures an advisor, this farmer and his neighbors will be privileged to consult him at any time without cost, tho, of course, those who subscribe will have the first right to receive the advisor's personal services on their farms. So those farmers who do not want to subscribe, should not object to their neighbor's putting up his money. The farmer is interested in his neighbor's welfare. He is a big-hearted fellow—the first in his community to respond in case of his neighbor's hard luck—and while he may never have thought of it he has a direct financial interest in the farms around him for two reasons.

First, the value of his farm depends to a certain extent upon the character of the neighborhood in which it is located for a farm in a prosperous, well farmed section will bring more than one in a poorly farmed community. Second, this farmer pays taxes on his lands—he pays plenty now and will have to pay more in the future. When the tax assessor comes around he looks over the farms and assesses them according to how they appear to him—assesses the fertile, well-tilled and prosperous looking farm much higher than the run-down farm all out of condition, and the man with the good farm pays more than his burden of taxation. So every farmer as a matter of self-protection wants to see his neighbor's farms maintain their fertility and prosperity.

Several of this farmer's neighbors are boosting for the advisor. One of them bought a car load of crushed lime stone for his clover field not long since. If we had had an advisor, the advisor would have had a list of all the farmers who were going to buy and would have contracted for all the lime at one time at reduced cost and would have saved the man who bought the carload much if not all of the annual cost of the advisor.

Another of his neighbors has been feeding tankage to his hogs. He thought his hogs were not gaining as they should and wrote the county advisor in another county as to the quality of the tankage he was using and found that it was very deficient in food value and that he had been paying for the tankage twice as much as it was worth. An advisor would have saved that neighbor several hundred dollars.

Another neighbor has 48 bushels of extra nice timothy seed to sell. He does not know who wants timothy seed. If we had an advisor, it would be his business to know who has timothy seed to sell and who wants to buy it and he could easily bring seller and purchaser together to their mutual profit.

Another of his neighbors has a fairly good apple orchard. He had never sprayed his fruit. A well-wishing friend last spring advised him to spray. After much research and considerable trouble he got his apples sprayed. He says it paid him big. If we had an advisor, he would be ready to tell him how and when to spray, where to get the material and would also induce his neighbors to spray, thus preventing the spread of fruit diseases and insects.

Another of his neighbors has a large corn field with a patch of ten or fifteen acres in it which simply will not produce corn as it should. He has tried to find the trouble but has failed. A county advisor would help him.

Another of his neighbors bought seed corn last spring from a well known seed corn dealer in another county. He planted it early in his best field but it did not come up nearly as well as seed which he had picked himself and planted in an adjoining field. A germination test made afterwards showed that the purchased seed under most favorable conditions was one-fourth bad. This neighbor has already signed for an advisor.

Another of his neighbors planted alfalfa last year and got a very poor stand of alfalfa and a fine stand of several new weed pests. Up in Michigan the Agricultural College made tests of red clover and alfalfa seed which was being sold to farmers in that state by local dealers. It found plenty of samples that were half noxious weed seeds and dead seeds, and the farmers concluded after planting such seed that alfalfa was a failure. Seeding alfalfa is an expensive operation and none but the right kind of clean seed should be used. A county advisor can save money for those who are planning to plant this crop.

The farmers in his community were much belated with their threshing each year. Each man plans for himself in arranging his threshing without any cooperative effort to secure machines promptly and concentrate the work as soon as possible. In a certain Illinois county, where much more wheat and oats are produced than in Morgan, the county advisor this year took hold of the threshing matter and by securing a complete cooperation from the farmers got all the threshing done promptly and efficiently.

A properly organized farm bureau in charge of a good county advisor becomes a clearing house for all sorts of farm business and endeavor, and aside from increasing production and farm profits brings about a cooperation among farmers that will profit them many times the cost of the bureau. Any farmer who will sit down by himself and think this matter out, will find many ways in which a farm advisor can help him and he need not fear that the advisor will tell him how to run his farm.

A VISITOR FROM KENTUCKY.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Douglas of Ashland, Kentucky were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Peck of this city yesterday. Mr. Douglas has a historic name and takes justifiable pride in it. He and his wife have been visiting friends in Roodhouse and expect to call on others in Springfield before returning home.

Mr. Douglas says the great blue grass region of his state still continues to supply the fine horses, which are the just pride not only of Kentucky but of all the country as well and he thinks that, notwithstanding the inroads of the automobile people will not forget the dumb friend that has served them so well from the beginning of the world.

He says that there are many improvements in his state. During the civil war the writer was for a time at Catlettsburg on the Ohio river and from that place went up a smaller river called Big Sandy 25 miles to a place called Louisa. All the way the banks were mostly lined with forest trees with an occasional typical southern cabin alive with tow headed children but Mr. Douglas says that thriving towns now line the banks of that stream. There is a fall of 25 feet between Catlettsburg and Louisa and it has been utilized for several dams with canals for the passage of all steamers. Mr.

Douglas says he helped cut the timber for the first dam and the others went up soon after.

Frank Robson of Virden was a Thursday trader in the city.

New York, Oct. 11. — Swinging their war clubs like the cavemen of old, the New York Nationals battered their way to victory over the Chicago Americans here today by a score of 5 to 0. As a result of the second defeat of the White Sox in two days, the Giants are travelling westward tonight on even terms with their rivals in the struggle for world series victory. The outcome of the battle for premier baseball honors is as much in doubt as before the series began in Chicago last Saturday. Each team has won two contests and the indications point to a full seven game drive before either club will admit the supremacy of the other.

The victory of the Giants in the fourth game was the most impressive of the struggle to date, for the National League color bearers excelled both in pitching and with the bat. While the Chicago combination threatened several times they never got a runner beyond third base and the American League team left for the shores of Lake Michigan without crossing the Polo Grounds' home plate in eighteen innings. Two new diamond heroes leaped to pedestals of fame in the clash under Googans

Bluff today for Ferdinand Schupp of Louisville, Ky., turned the White Sox batters back without a run; and Benny Kauff, of Middleport, Ohio, led the batting massacre with two home runs.

The youthful lefthander redeemed himself for the vicious rally of the Chicago club in the second game on their home grounds when the Comiskey batters drove him from the mound, while Kauff, after thirteen hitless trips to the plate, found his batting eye for a circuit drive which paved the way for the Giants' onslaught that later was to demoralize the White Sox.

Only twice in the long history of world series baseball has Kauff's feat of two home runs in one game been duplicated. Before the former batting leader of the Federal League made his two circuit drives the honor was divided between Harry Hooper of the Boston Americans of 1915 and Outfielder Dougherty of the same club in 1903.

In shutting out the Sox without a run, following a similar feat by Rube Benton yesterday, Schupp also equalled for the Giants team, as a whole, a double shutout which has been scored few times since the beginning of the present century. In 1908 the Chicago Nationals whitewashed the Detroit Americans twice in succession and in 1905 the Giants of those days shut out the Philadelphia Athletics four games out of five while the only victory of the Mackmen was also a shutout by the Indian pitcher, "Chief" Bender. Christy Mathewson, now manager of the Cincinnati Nationals and "Iron Man" Joe McGinnity were the New York twirlers who engineered the quadruple whitewash of the Athletics.

For three sessions it was a pitcher's battle between Faber and Schupp with little if any advantage on either side. Kauff was the third man to face Faber in the Giants' half of the fourth, Burns and Herzog, having failed to make first base. With two out and his record of not a hit in the series in thirteen times at bat, a byword among the fans, Kauff was desperate.

With a ball and a strike called against him, he saw a perfect "groove" ball coming up from Faber's hand and taking a deep toe hold in the batter's box he flung the full weight of his body into the sweep of the bat. There was a terrific crack and the ball flew like a bullet over second base and far toward into center field.

Felsch in his eagerness to hold Kauff at third fumbled the ball as he tried to pick it up and the Giants'

runner was crossing the plate as the sphere was finally returned to the infield.

The circuit blow appeared to take something off Faber's confidence and altho Zimmerman was retired on an infield out, the White Sox hurler faltered as soon as he faced the Nationals in the succeeding sessions. Fletcher opened with a single to center. Manager McGraw crossed the Sox by switching from his well known hit and run system to bunting. Robertson and Holke both laid down perfect bunts and by fast sprinting the bases were filled. Rariden's hopper to Faber resulted in a double play, Fletcher being forced at the plate and Schalk's quick throw to Gandil getting Rariden by a step. Schupp's single to center sent Robertson across the plate, but Holke was caught by Felsch's rapid return of the ball as he tried to slide in, a stride behind Robertson.

In the "lucky seventh" the Giants scored again. Fletcher singled off McMullin's glove and took third when Faber's "spitball" flew wild and Schalk had to chase it to the grandstand wall. Robertson went out, Faber to Gandil and then White Sox pitcher hit Holke, sending him to first. For the first time in the game the fans began to root steadily in an effort to rattle Faber. McGraw gave the signal for the hit and run play and as Rariden went out, Collins to Gandil, Fletcher scored. With Holke on second Schupp was retired. Weaver to Gandil.

Faber retired at the end of the seventh inning and Danforth took up the hurling for the White Sox when the Giants went to bat in the eighth. Burns fanned, but Herzog splashed a single to center and for the second time in the game Kauff found a ball to his liking and sent it sailing away for another run. Kauff trotted around the bases, preceded by Herzog for the final runs of the contest. This was the last game in which the players participate in the gate receipts and later on the White Sox and Giants will divide $152,888.68 as their share of the admission charges for the first four games. This sum will be awarded 60 per cent to the winning and 40 per cent to the losing team, the amounts being respectively $91,733.15 and $61,155.43. The attendance today was 27,746 and the receipts $63,742. Of this amount the players received $34,426.68; the clubs, $11,473.56; and the national commission, $6,374.20.

While the day was almost perfect for baseball, being clear and mild, the attendance was the poorest of the series to date. There were hundreds of vacant seats in the bleachers and similar spaces in the unreserved grandstand. The assemblage of fans appeared more or less apathetic except at critical or exciting moments of the play. Score:

UGH! ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN, GAS OR INDIGESTION

The Moment "Pape's Diapiesin"
Reaches the Stomach All Distress Goes

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. and Mrs. Diapiesin, jot this down: Pape's Diapiesin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly. You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, or any stomach disorder, due to acid fermentation.—Adv.

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Adv.

Do You Own Your Own Home?

If not, change this condition right away and begin working for yourself. In the territory along Burlington Lines in the West there are countless opportunities for the homebuilder and the investor.

Western Nebraska and Northwestern Colorado excel in dairying, live stock and grain raising. Non-resident owners have many well-located farms ($25 to $50 per acre, with terms of payment easy), which they are unable to develop. Any industrious farmer can become well-to-do on one of them in a remarkably short time.

WYOMING

Big Horn Basin irrigated lands—near to beet sugar factories, oil refineries, coal mines and other natural resources—which grow big crops of wheat, oats, alfalfa, sugar beets and potatoes, can be bought at $50 and up per acre. Some very desirable 640-acre Free Homesteads in a large area, are still available.

HELPING TO WIN THE WAR

Article II—Advice to Americans Between the Age of Six and Sixteen.
By George Ade.

Assuming that this letter is now being read by some boy or girl old enough to go to school, but still young enough to be called a "kid," (by those who don't know any better) let us begin by asking the question, "Is it wrong to fight?"

Every boy or girl with civilized parents can answer that question. It is not to be answered by "yes," or "no."

If we say "yes," we admit at once that our old friends George Washington and U. S. Grant were depraved characters, because they fought and then kept on fighting.

If Buffalo Bill once upon a time rode out across the plains and came upon a band of Indians attacking a settlers' cabin and went dashing up with his scouts and killed a few redskins, is there any boy in the world who would go back on Buffalo Bill and pick out some quiet, elderly real estate dealer as a substitute hero?

It's too foolish to talk about. Suppose we say it is not wrong to fight. Then we remove all blame from the Indians that Buffalo Bill killed and we find ourselves so mixed up that probably we had better back up and take a new start.

In answer to the question, "Is it wrong to fight," there can be but one sensible reply, as follows: "It all depends."

Suppose a boy of 14 is walking along the street with his sister and the neighborhood bully swaggers around the corner and pushes the boy up against a fence and cuffs him alongside the head and then tries some insulting familiarities on the sister, and suppose the boy who is thus humiliated and whose sister is in tears, suddenly remembers that he has been told to "keep out of fights!"

What shall he do? Retreat to an alley, or stand up in defense of his own self-respect and try to protect his sister?

Suppose he says to the bully, "I believe in peace and no matter what you do to me, I won't strike back."

Then he would get a few more cuffs for good measure, and his sister would be ashamed of him and he would be ashamed of himself and the little rowdy who attacked him would call himself cock of the walk and be a greater nuisance than ever before.

The United States of America is involved in hideous war because President Wilson and Congress and all persons who are warmed by red blood instead of being chilled by sarsaparilla pop had to make the same decision that every boy is called upon to make when he is jumped upon by a tough customer.

Another question (boys only): Did you ever let a boy up before he yelled "Enough" and then have the whole fight over again?

If so, you might go around in your neighborhood and give some valuable information to people older than yourself.

If you (this is for both boys and girls) went out into the woods for a picnic with another "bunch" of young people you knew and liked, and if your crowd had a basket of things to eat and the other crowd had a basket and some toughies came along and stole the basket belonging to the other crowd, would you give them something to eat out of your basket, or let them sit over by themselves, hungry and miserable, and watch you stuff yourselves?

You'd play fair, of course, even if you had to go a little hungry.

Mr. Hoover is now asking every boy and girl in America to play fair and divide up with the hungry youngsters of France and Belgium and Great Britain.

There isn't enough food in the world to go around if we are selfish and claim more than our share.

How can a boy or girl under high school age really help to win the war?

First join the Junior Red Cross.

Then keep on saying, "I know Uncle Sam is right and I will pull for him until he wins."

Believe what you say.

Root for the U. S. A. as you would root for your baseball nine or your basketball five.

Stand out on the edge of the sidewalk and cheer the soldiers as they swing by.

If you get a chance to hold yarn for a Red Cross knitter, do your "bit," and say to yourself, when your arms begin to get tired: "I am helping on a pair of socks, and these socks will keep a soldier warm and prevent him from being ill or discouraged. When the time comes for him to fight he will be in better condition and more willing to fight because he had these warm socks to wear. He will climb over the top of a trench and help to chase the Germans back to where they belong. There will be a great victory and

BROWNVILLE, TEXAS, Mr. Chas. Baker, writes: "My wife would not think of using any other cough medicine, as Foley's Honey and Tar is certain to bring quick relief. It is especially effective in cases of bad coughs, and we give it to our children and recommend it always as a safe remedy, for it contains no opiates."

FRED MEGGINSON IS SUCCESSFUL FEEDER

Finds Most Money in Handling Shorthorn Cattle—Follows Some-what Unusual Methods in Dealing With Hogs—Home Has Many Conveniences.

Generally thruout Morgan county the name Megginson spells a good farmer and that reaches the climax when one sees the plant of the late Peter Megginson, a few miles west of the city. Mr. Megginson himself was called from earth a few years since but the place is well maintained by the son he left there while another son, Fred, has gone just south of the home place and constructed for himself and family a home that leaves little to be desired. When the writer called there recently Fred had a machinist studying the placing of a gasoline engine in the basement and when that is completed all will be installed that could be found in a home. The engine will do the churning, washing, wringing, pumping, general work about the place. In the basement which is concreted there is a tank into which air is pumped and that makes a pressure so that hot and cold water are available all over the house. Inside it has all possible conveniences in the way of lights and all else and surely he and his family are prepared to enjoy life with a farm of 200 acres of as good land as ever the sun shone on.

Handles Both Cattle and Hogs
Mr. Megginson handles both cattle and hogs and has his own ideas regarding both. He buys yearling calves in the early spring and gives them all the roughness they will eat and the best of pasture. Then as fall approaches he adds oats to the bill of fare and when he begins to fatten them for the market he gives them oats and corn and cob ground and in that way he gets some fine stock on the market.

Like many others in this region he chooses the ever reliable Shorthorn for feeding and handling as he finds they have more money in them for him than any other kind. By the way he works it he gets the natural growth and the fat both with his young animals and is satisfied it pays best that way. He generally markets the stock when two years of age and in that way has young and growing stuff on the place all the time.

He is well fixed for feeding with a barn and feed lot so that he gets all the manure and fertilizing matter which aids in keeping up the land and any Megginson who would let his land run down would be disowned by the rest of the family.

In hogs, Mr. Megginson has had very good success and he has done what the writer has not found yet on any other place, bred cross breeds. He has crossed Durocs with Poland Chinas and bred the crosses with good success. He is careful to send away for his hogs so as to avoid inbreeding for five years he says he has had good success at it. He doesn't claim to have extra fancy stock but has what has done well and made good money and that is the object of feeding.

Prefers Movable Hog Houses
He has his sows rough it generally and likes good clover pasture for them and gives them also some threshed oats and will carefully feed. He likes the movable hog houses for his sows and has them first class too, with small windows in front so that the mothers can get light enough to care for their numerous progeny.

His pigs he weans as soon as may be wise and tries to have his sows farrow in March and September so that the fall pigs will have plenty of time to grow large enough to stand cold weather. After weaning he gives them steeped oats, some corn and tankage and lets them run on clover if he has it. He generally markets his hogs when then are ten to eleven months old. The last lot he sent off were eleven months old and averaged 275 pounds which is good.

Does Not Favor Silo
Mr. Megginson is not a silo man and this fall he says several of his neighbors who have silos will not fill them while corn is so high. He cuts a part of his corn and feeds the fodder and the rest of the corn he husks from the stalk, carefully cutting and turning under the latter.

He sows clover seed with oats when he wants to change his land but doesn't raise wheat. His land is so rich the wheat wheat would be apt to lodge and not do so well. He prefers Yellow Dent and Leaming corn and says the Dent is best adapted to rich land and the other is better for all purposes. He doesn't use white corn to any extent, preferring the kinds mentioned.

He milks only two cows and thinks the time has not come for him to raise calves profitably though it may come some day.

DENTIST IMPORTANT ADJUNCT TO U. S. NAVY

Is Luxury Not to Be Found in Many Other Navies — No "Fancy" Dentistry Attempted.

Base American Flotilla in British waters Oct. 11.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Keeping in repair the teeth of the American officers and bluejackets over here is a big task ably performed by two dental surgeons who hold the rank of junior lieutenants on the two tenders or mother ships now based on this port. These two men have, since the arrival of the flotilla in these waters, treated no less than one thousand of the personnel of the ships for everything from a common everyday toothache to a major operation on the molars. In their respective units these two surgeons preside over dental parlors on a par with those to be found in the best equipped of American cities. Here urgent cases are treated immediately, others by appointment and in regular order. The dentists are always "on the job". They are subject to call at any time of the day or night.

WOULD HAUL FREIGHT

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11.—Representatives of all the principal railroads operating in Georgia have appealed to the State Railroad Commission on the grounds of public safety, military expediency and patriotic service, to have the Georgia law prohibiting the operation of freight trains on Sunday suspended during the war. In presenting the petition, the alleged menace of freight congestion that would endanger the rapidity of both troops movements and transportation of military supplies, as well as the supply of such public necessities as food and coal, is emphasized.

THIS WOMAN TOLD TO CHOOSE

Between Operation and Death. Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Des Moines, Iowa.—"My husband says I would have been in my grave to day had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and got me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to do my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer."—Mrs. BLANCHÉ JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from highly prized roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FOOD PRICES SHOW VAST INCREASES

Prices of Many Commodities Have Doubled in Past Few Years—Prospects for Lower Prices Not Bright, According to Food Officials.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Well may the people of America wonder where the increase in the price of food is going to stop. In four years' time the prices of commodities have advanced until today, flour is almost three times as much, sugar is about twice as high, coal has nearly doubled its price, butter and eggs have increased almost 50 per cent and thru a long list of commodities similar advances are revealed in a comparison of figures from price lists of 1913 and 1917, notwithstanding a reduction in many necessities since last winter when higher prices were recorded.

Prospects for lower prices are not bright, according to food officials, who point out, thru the operation of the food-fixing policy of the Federal Government aided by the huge crops of the past summer, higher quotations can hardly be justified. During the last six months there have been many predictions of higher figures for the coming winter. Reports of the United States Department of Agriculture, however, which show enormous increases in the corn crop, a large wheat crop and billions of pounds of meats and dairy products in cold storage seems to indicate an adequate supply of food providing a system of distribution is found.

Regulation Became Necessary. Two phases of the food situation have developed from the entrance of the United States into the war. Before this the food problem gave little concern to the nation, but with the United States assuming the responsibility of feeding the allies, government regulation became necessary and the price-fixing policy of the National Food Administration has resulted.

Out of the planning and legislation in Washington was emerged a food control board which, aided by State and municipal committees, is educating the public to an appreciation of unused food resources and to a more economical and wiser use of the staple articles. This education is expected to result in greatly increasing the export supply and help the nation to take its place as the chief food supplier of the world.

An astonishing situation was revealed in the enormous stocks of cold storage turkeys, chickens, beef, mutton, pork and lamb, as recorded by the United States Department of Agriculture. Those in touch with the markets trace the beginning of this movement to one year ago, when the prices for poultry of all sorts started to advance to higher prices than ever before. When Thanksgiving arrived and dealers in the large Eastern cities insisted on 40 and 45 cents a pound for turkey, various civic and consumers' leagues announced a boycott on poultry. The dealers were not dismayed, but placed a large quantity in storage to wait for a demand that would enable them to dispose of them at the original prices.

Prices Failed to Lower. During the winter months and following the entrance of the United States into the war, the consumption of poultry diminished. This condition of the market continued in mid-summer the poultry trade started a nation wide campaign to increase the consumption of poultry. In this they were aided by a patriotic impulse to the people to eat chicken instead of the meats needed in the army. Prices failed to lower for the best grades, only the two and three pounders selling at reduced prices.

Prospects for cheaper potatoes are brighter this year than last. A total increase of 17,000,000 bushels in the United States is reported, the total output estimated at 462,000,000 bushels. In the case of meats the advance has been almost entirely in the retail prices, the wholesale prices advancing but little. Pork has reached unheard of height with bacon selling at almost double the price charged in 1913.

Fish is in the eye of the nation with Federal and State food officials urging its substitution for meat and the prices steadily advancing notwithstanding a large supply. The catches of New England fishermen this year are reported to have been larger than ever before in the history of the fishing industry, yet in the Boston market cod has doubled in price and mackerel and other varieties are selling higher than ever before.

ALLINSON THOMASON IS SUCCESSFUL FARMER

Carries on Extensive Farming Operations in Markham Neighborhood—Main Livestock Raised is Hogs.

One of the substantial and well fixed farmers of Morgan county is Allinson Thomason residing not far from Markham station. The gentleman has at his home place two hundred acres of as fine land as "ever lay out of doors," and then a little garden patch of 240 acres more just west of Lynnville where he used to live some years ago. Mr. Thomason has one son, about eighteen years of age, and he seems to have solved the problem, in his case, of keeping the boy on the farm as the young man seems to be happy and contented with his parents, as well he may be, for he is treated kindly, has all that heart could reasonably wish and it is safe to say that if he continues as he has begun, the time will come when he will be placed in full possession of one of the farms mentioned tho no hint or suggestion of the kind was made by Mr. Thomason to the reporter and of course no questions on the subject were asked. Mr. Thomason and his son were both using wheat drills when the reporter arrived and the ground was fine. Mr. Thomason said the field had served its time with three crops of corn the last one was good. It had been cut and the visitor remarked that the shocks took up five per cent or more of the ground. Mr. Thomason said that some years before under similar circumstances he had thrashed from that same field 47 bushels of wheat to the acre which wasn't bad and he didn't count out the shock butts either and he said if he could have gathered the wheat clean thruout the field where it was lodged he was satisfied he would have had fifty bushels to the acre.

Mr. Thomason likes the standard Reid Yellow Dent corn and has a splendid crop on his farm this year. His main hold in live stock is hogs and he sticks to the old reliable Poland Chinas which he regards hard to beat. He says that some years ago thru careless breeding the hogs became small boned, smaller in size and more delicate but of late farmers have found the void of such carelessness and have avoided it and the result is much better hogs.

Mr. Thomason has a novel way of caring for his brood sows. He has tried movable pens and pens in a building in a row and has discarded both. He always has straw stacks and lets his brood sows run about them and when a sow is getting ready to farrow he builds a little pen for her right against the straw pen and gives her that for a home. If the weather is at all cold she can burrow into the stack and be as cozy and comfortable as need be and if the weather is warm she can get out into the open. The straw he carefully preserves and puts it back on his land which today is as rich and productive as it was 25 years ago.

He likes to have his sows farrow in April and September so that gives the fall pigs a chance to get some size and weight before cold weather and to stand the cold weather better.

He thinks much of Mormon stock food which he buys in 100 pound sacks. When fattening he gives his hogs some tankage and he also thinks much of clover for them. He markets his hogs when they are ten to eleven months old and gets them to weigh from 250 to 300 pounds. He doesn't often buy cattle to feed tho he handles a few of his own raising. Here again he sticks to

OBITUARY.

Russell Lee Hunter, son of John and Bertha Samples Hunter, was born November 10, 1901, on a farm one mile east of Sinclair and died October 4, 1917, at the age of 15 years, 10 months, and 24 days. At the age of one year his parents removed to a farm southeast of Litchfield, where they have since resided. He united with the Baptist church of Litchfield at an early age, and has always been a faithful member. His last illness was of short duration, lasting from Sunday evening, until Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Russell was a boy of splendid character, and made many friends who will mourn his untimely death. He will be greatly missed by his schoolmates, with whom he was a great favorite.

Besides his bereaved parents, he leaves to mourn his loss a sister,

Eloise Frances, his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sample, his aged grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Hunter, and a host of other relatives.

Farewell, dear Russell, sweet thy rest,
Which will be free from earthly pain,
Farewell, till in some happy place
We shall behold thy face again.
'Tis ours to miss thee all our years,
And tender memories of thee keep.
Thine in the Lord to rest, for so,
He giveth his beloved sleep.

Because of the circumstances surrounding his death, brief funeral services were held at the Jacksonville cemetery Friday afternoon October 5. They were in charge of Rev. W. R. Johnson of Winchester, former pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. A. A. Todd of this city. Appropriate hymns were rendered by Miss Eva Breitweiser and Miss Massey. The floral offerings were tendered by Mrs. J. M. Bernice Dodsworth, Miss Emma Hunter and Mrs. Newton Wilson. The bearers were: Russell McGhee, Everett Long, Lee Means, Lynn Dinwiddie and Newton and Albert Wilson.

JURY RETURNED VERDICT IN DEATH OF JAMES MOY

Inquest Held at Court House Thursday Evening—No Charge of Criminal Negligence—States Attorney and Counsel for Relatives of Deceased Present.

"We, the undersigned jurors, sworn to inquire into the death of James E. Moy, on oath do find that he came to his death by internal injuries caused by being struck by an automobile, said automobile being driven by Dr. A. E. Prince."

This was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury sworn to inquire into the death of James Moy after hearing the testimony of the various witnesses. The jury, which was composed of Martin Kenny, foreman, Charles Laney, Allen Kelly, Frank W. Bristow, John R. Phillips and Norman Kuykendall, clerk, was convened by Coroner Rose in the county judge's room in the court house Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Several Witnesses Examined.
The testimony of Walter McCormick, Dr. A. E. Prince, A. R. Endsley, G. W. Patterson and Dr. W. H. Weirich was heard. The testimony of Mr. Endsley and Mr. Patterson did not have a direct bearing on the case. Mr. Endsley testified to having been standing on the southeast corner of the square in front of Hopper's shoe store Sunday morning when Dr. Prince passed there on his way to Zahn's garage. Witness said that Dr. Prince's car ran rather close to him and that some remark was made by his companion as to his action. Mr. Patterson's testimony showed he had met Moy a number of times on the road and that Moy always got out of his way. Witness testified to meeting Moy on Sunday morning just before the accident occurred and that he stepped out of the road on the right hand side of the car instead of the left.

States Attorney Carl E. Robinson was present at the inquest representing the people and J. Marshall Miller was present representing Daniel Moy a brother of the deceased. When Dr. Prince was sworn State's Attorney Robinson explained to him that any statement he might make voluntarily would be used against him in case of criminal proceedings and that he might refuse to answer any question which he thought might incriminate him. Dr. Prince said he had nothing to conceal and only wanted to tell the story of the accident.

Dr. Prince's Story of Accident.
According to the testimony of Dr. Prince when he first saw Moy he was probably an eighth of a mile away. He did not notice anything wrong with Moy when he first saw him but said that when he was about 25 or 30 yards away from him, he began to walk in rather a zig zag manner. Witness said that even then he thought he would pass him without trouble. However, after taking a step to the west Moy turned suddenly and ran directly in front of the car. According to Dr. Prince he was running at a rate of 25 miles an hour.

Dr. Prince said that he had no idea that Moy was blind and that when he ran in front of the car he was so close that it would have done no good to sound his horn. He told of stopping the car and finding out who Moy was and taking him to Our Savior's hospital. Witness said that Moy was conscious when he reached him and was able to tell who he was and where he wanted to be taken. He said that Moy fainted as he was being taken into the hospital. The testimony of Walter McCormick of 269 Finley street merely corroborated that of Dr. Prince except that there were some discrepancies as to the distance Moy was from the car when he ran in front of it. Attorney Miller questioned Mr. McCormick rather sharply and at times the witness showed some resentment at Mr. Miller's manner and methods.

Moy's Own Statement.
Dr. W. H. Weirich who examined Moy told of the nature of his injuries and gave as his opinion that his death resulted from the injuries received in the accident. Dr. Weirich also told of Dr. Prince's version of the accident, as told to him over the telephone, Sunday evening. Mr. Miller asked Dr. Weirich if Moy had given him any statement as to the accident. To this Dr. Weirich replied that Moy said that when he heard the automobile coming he could not tell whether it was approaching from the rear or front. Witness said that Moy told him that he thought he was on the east side of the road and that he stepped to the east expecting to get off the road. As it proved he stepped directly in the path of the car.

LIBERTY BOND WORK.

Miller Weir returned yesterday from St. Louis and will return to that city today. Mr. Weir will devote the next two weeks to publicity work in the liberty loan campaign. The executive committee for the 44 counties in Illinois which are included in the 8th federal reserve district designated Mr. Weir for one of the liberty loan workers and his acquaintance with the bankers because of his former position as a national bank examiner, and his present connection with the state auditor's office, qualify him especially for this present patriotic work. Mr. Weir will confer with bankers who visit St. Louis and during the course of the two weeks will go into a number of Illinois counties for conferences and addresses. Today a conference of bankers will be held in St. Louis. State Auditor Andrew Russell will be in attendance and probably several bankers from this city will also be present.

OBSTRUCTED HIGHWAY.

Yesterday morning a man driving a team hitched to a loaded wagon stuck on a bridge six miles southeast of the city as the road was slippery, a hill rose from the bridge and the horses were unshod. A man came along in a buggy but was unable to help. Another came along in a buggy and he had to wait as nothing could pass the team. Finally a foot passenger happened along and then the three men put their shoulders to the hind end of the wagon, the horses were started and moved a few feet when they again stuck. This was repeated a few times, the men in the rear lifting as for life and finally with many starts and efforts the top of the hill was reached and the buggies were enabled to get across the bridge.

GIVEN FACTS ABOUT LAMBERT TAYLOR DEATH

Husband of Jacksonville Woman Injured By Gas at Battle of Lens—Death Resulted from Wounds.

Miss Ada Correa received word from her sister, Mrs. Lambert Taylor, of Toronto, Canada, giving full particulars concerning the death of her husband in France, who was gassed and wounded Aug. 18, and died Aug. 26, at 18th casualty clearing station. He enlisted last October with the Canadian army at Toronto, and on March 22 was sent to England for training.

He was laid to rest in the British cemetery with military honors, where each grave is marked with a cross bearing the name and regiment of each soldier.

Gunner Taylor was gassed in the battle of Lens, which was one of the worst since the war. The Canadian soldiers fought desperately, many of them throwing away their gas masks in order to see clearly the call and signals for help. All effort was used by them to save the children from being captured by the Germans who were aiming to take all the baby boys to Germany to be raised as soldiers and gassing the baby girls to dispose of them.

In a letter from his mother to his wife she states the following which appeared in an English paper:

"Gunner Lambert Taylor of the Canadian Field Artillery, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, 24 Cliff Ash, Gofar, and grandson of the late Police Sergeant Gofar, has died of wounds, having previously been reported to be suffering from gas poisoning."

He formerly worked as pattern weaver for Messrs. Chas. Lockwood & Sons, Ltd., of Linthwaite. He attended the Providence United Methodist church and Sunday school and was also a member of the choir. He went to Canada fourteen years ago and also visited many times in the United States. He was married in Toronto, Canada, Jan. 11, 1917 to Miss Rose Correa of Jacksonville, Ill.

He visited his home May 31, several days previous to his journey to France. Every respect has been paid to his memory in his church.

A black cover was draped over the Bible cushion. A leaders' meeting was held of whom two were sent to the home of the mother expressing their sympathy for the family and his wife in Canada.

In Memory of Our Loved One.

He went to war in the morning.

The roll of the drums could be heard;

But he paused at the gate with his mother

For a kiss and a comforting word. He was full of the dreams and ambitions

That youth is so ready to weave;

And proud of the clank of his sabre

And the chevrons of gold on his sleeve.

He came back from war in the evening.

The meadows were sprinkled with dew;

The drums and the bugles were silent.

And the steps of the soldier were few.

He was wrapped in the flag of his country

Where they laid him away in the mould;

With the glittering stars of a captain

Replacing the chevrons of gold.

With the heroes who slept on the hillside

He lies with a flag at his head;

Send a message to wife in the morning,

Were the last words the dying one said.

The soldiers who fall in the battle

May feel but a moment of pain,

But the women who wait in the homestead

Must dwell with the ghosts of the slain.

VISITORS FROM NEBRASKA.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert English of Arnold, Nebraska, are in the city visiting Mr. English's sister, Miss Anna English, one of the faculty in the high school. After a visit here they expect to go to Brown county to visit relatives of Mrs. English. They made the trip in a Maxwell car and had a pleasant time en route.

Mr. English has not followed the holy calling of his father but has become a tiller of the soil and manages to get along with a garden patch of 2 1/2 acres on which he raises an abundance of the necessities of life and is bravely doing his bit for the welfare of his country. He finds a good many friends here who remember both him and his worthy father.

BACK FROM QUINCY.

Frank Wiggins and L. Goheen have returned from Quincy where they went as a G. A. R. committee to inspect conditions in the Soldiers' and Sailors' home in the Gem City. They report conditions there very satisfactory; the veterans well fed and contented and able to take care of their meals in good order. Mr. Wiggins says there will later be a formal report which will be published.

LETTER GIVES THE GERMAN VIEWPOINT

Suggests That But One Race is Worthy of Ruling the World.

The following article published in a western paper was sent to the Journal by a reader with the suggestion that it be published so that the people may realize how German school children are taught to look upon this war and upon the divine mission of Germany. The clipping in its entirety follows:

Mrs. Mary Allen, one of the owners of the Roseburg Business College gave the Roseburg Review a letter written by Kate Hamful, daughter of a prominent German official, to one of her school friends in Switzerland. The letter is very interesting for the reason that it shows that the pupils of the German schools are being taught to believe that they are the divine fruit, while the people of other nations are merely the weeds.

The letter follows:
Frankfurt-on-Main, July 29, 1916.
My Dear Louise: The contents of your last letter would have hurt me had I not known that your thoughts of our glorious war resulted from sheer ignorance.

You are in a country rendered effeminate by the influence of old-fashioned ideas of liberty, a country which is at least two centuries behind ours. You are in need of a good dose of Prussian culture.

It is evident that you, a Swiss girl with your French sympathies, cannot understand how my heart the heart of a young German girl, passionately desired this war. Speaking of it some years ago, my father said to us, "Children, Germany is getting to small for us; we shall have to go to France again in order to find more room." Is it our fault if France will not understand that more money and land are necessary for us?

War, of Course!

And your reproach us that our soldiers have been very cruel to the Belgian rabble, and you speak also of the destruction of Rheims and the burning of villages and towns. Well, that is war. As in every other undertaking, we are pastmasters in the making of war.

You have a great deal to learn before you can come up to our standard, and I assure you that what has been done is a mere bagatelle compared with what will follow.

As a matter of fact there is but one race worthy of ruling the world, and which has already attained the highest degree of civilization. That race is ours, the Prussians; for the we Germans in general are the lords of the world, the Prussian is undoubtedly the lord par excellence among the Germans.

All other nations, and among them, unfortunately, the Swiss, are degenerate and of inferior worth. That is why I have always been so proud of being a true Prussian.

Adam As a Boche.

Yesterday, again, our pastor explained to us convincingly that our first parents, Adam and Eve, were also Prussian. That is quite easy to understand, because the Bible tells us that the German God created us all after his own image. If, then, all men descended from Adam and his wife, it follows that only Prussians, or at least Germans, ought to exist in the world, and that all who push on and prosper ought to belong to us. You must admit that this is why our motto is: God with us; God above everything.

You know why we wished this war. Is it not shameful that other nations, who have no right of existence on earth, wish to diminish our heritage? We are the divine fruit, and others are only the weeds. Do you understand that now?

I remain, your school friend,

Katie Hamful.

Daughter of State Councilor of Architecture.

LINES TO THE KAISER

The following lines found their way into one of the Christmas bags sent to a soldier in France:

There was a brave soldier in France,

Whose Christmas bag caused him to dance.

He said, "I'm so happy

And I feel so scrappy

I'll go get the Kaiser.

The wicked old miser!

I'll just take the point of my lance

And catch Willy right by the pants.

I'll give him such hearty swift kicks

That he will regret all his tricks—

And when I have licked him,

And jolly well kicked him,

He'll see that he can't fool with us

Without stirring up quite a fuss."

WILL GO TO TEXAS.

Miss Daisy Emerick, for some time a valued member of the force at the store of F. J. Waddell & Co., has resigned her position and expects to do her last work Saturday evening after which she is planning to go to Houston, Texas, where she has a position. The move is made solely on account of health which is not at all good in this climate and she hopes to find improvement in the Lone Star state. The young lady has a host of friends in the city who will most cordially wish her all success and happiness in her new home.
